

Minority Enterprise & Educational Development (MEED) has joined up with FanTree. Please see the information below and click on the link to purchase COOL items and also benefit MEED's scholarship and backpack collection programs.

FanTree is an e-commerce company which harnesses the passion and energy of sports fans to support charitable causes. At FanTree, we're making the world a better place, one fan at a time.

Our relationship with Denver Nuggets star Kenneth Faried has brought us into contact with so many wonderful people and causes in the Denver area. We are impressed by the great work MEED has done to support and empower the minority community in Colorado and we wanted to do our part to help this great cause.

For every purchase of a Kenneth Faried backpack on FanTree, we will donate $10 to MEED. Please join us and help provide the leaders of tomorrow with the supplies they need today.
